SharperLending's Appraisal Firewall Technology Now Integrated into Calyx® Point®

Lenders Access Appraisers, Receive Compliant Appraisals Without Leaving Their LOS

April 19th, 2010 – Spokane, WA-based SharperLending LLC, provider of appraisal and settlement services technology solutions, announced today that its Appraisal Firewall product, a non-AMC valuation technology solution that allows lenders to keep working with their trusted local appraisers while staying FHA and HVCC compliant, has been integrated into San Jose, California-based Calyx Software's Point software.

Calyx Software® is the mortgage industry's leading provider of loan marketing, originating and processing software. Through the integration, Point users can now take advantage of the Appraisal Firewall valuation technology from within their familiar Calyx Point system.

"The goal of Appraisal Firewall is to lessen the impact of appraisal regulations on lender business, which it does by allowing lenders to keep working with their trusted appraisers while being HVCC and FHA compliant," says Dave Black, President and CEO of SharperLending, the company behind the Appraisal Firewall technology. "Now that we've worked with Calyx to extend appraisal access into Point, this promotes our focus by allowing Point users to stay in their current LOS package – further lessening the impact of appraisal regulations."

"Calyx is excited about the integration of SharperLending into the Calyx Network," said Dennis Boggs, Senior Vice President of Business Development. "SharperLending's technology multiplies our capabilities to provide Point users with more options."

“Lenders in general have enough on their plates these days,” continues Black. “When technology integrations like this have the goal of embracing external change and reducing lender impact, lenders can focus on keeping their pipelines full and making their customers happy.”
